the Hyperion to-morrow evening in

Hyperion Mr. Edward Harrigan will be seen at 'The Major," supported by his New York company. An exchange says: "This play is specially suitable to Mr. Harrigan's talents; his tricks of maner, his voice and his wit all lend them selves admirably to the part. The ong, "For I Am the Mayor Gilfeather." as probably enjoyed more lasting popularity than any song that Dave Braham even composed or Harrigan ever sang. However, "The Major" is by no menas a one-part play. There are four or five strong parts in it. The first of the three scenes of the first act, a steamship wharf, is an exceptionally good piece of stage setting. Another scene the supervision of those who is the explosion of Pop's fireworks fac-make it. It is absolutely pure, tory, in which a dozen darkies are spring many need a light scend quickly like the sticks thereof. Sale of seats now open. Roland Reed in the "Politician" will appear Saturday evening, May 4.

Don't forget the summer popular rices at the Grand opera house today. At the matines performance 10c and 20c will be the admission charged to see Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer's great play, "The Two Sis-ters," and in the evening reserved seats n the lower floor will be 30c and 50c, and sofa chairs 75c, prices which place it within the reach of all to see a $1 show for a very trifling fee. There will be no change in this scale of prices excepting on May 6, 7, 8, when the performances will be for the benefit of the Actors' fund of America. On Thursday, May 9, the summer popular prices will be resumed.

In "The Two Sisters" the authors, so o say, cut out a small slice of the real world and put it on the stage to look it, deepening its shadows and heightening its lights just enough, and only just enough, to keep it from seeming lat and colorless under the glow of he footlights. Donnelly and Girard will be the attraction at the Grand Opera house Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.. They will present Frank Du-mont's laughable farce comedy, "The Rainmakers," in which they both appear to such humorous advantage. The cyacting seen here in a long time, and this week will be made still more telling by the introduction of a number of new electrical effects. The company is entirely competent. "The Rainmakers" matinee Saturday.

The popular summer prices will pre-

Poll's Wonderland Theater.

The beautiful Creoles are fascinating all who go to the Wonderland this week with their brilliant spectacular novelty. So much interest is felt in electricity at this time that anything new in the way of effects is always sure to fascinate the multitude, That these Creoles have discovered a novel use of the electric fluid is admitted by all who see the splendid spectacular divertisement which they present. When they were the chief feature of "Little Christopher" during three months of its run in New York, the metropolis recognized the novelty as one of the most brilliant and enchanting that this season has developed, and much regret was experienced when it was taken out of it to make way for another special attraction. The Creoles' sovel spectacular production must, however, be seen to be appreciated. A splendid vaudeville bill is given in addition. The two Clippers present some very bright comedy, Mr. Ward being one of the brightest comedians seen here in many a day. Mr. Curran's ture of the Clippers' act, and it attracts and pleases everyone. The Franks, Wills and Halpin, Mr. Fore man and Miss West, John and Nellie McCarthy, Miss Minnie Bells, and Barry and Bannon, are actors who dissinguish themselves on a bill that is exceptionally excellent for the prices harged. And it must not be forgotten that the prices are always popular, never varying with the character of the attractions presented.

Rau From Blatchley Avenue to Westville. A horse attached to a wagon belonging to A. Fenton, the fish dealer at the corner of Grand and Blatchley avenues, started on a little pleasure trip yesterday afternoon. He started on a mad run along Grand avenue and was not stopped until he had demollahed the wagon and reached Westville, The horse narrowly escaped several collisions on Grand avenue and Elm street.
